October 25, 2010

Dear Friends of the Foundation,

Two years ago, the University System of Georgia Foundation initiated the Regents' Foundation Scholarship program to provide students facing financial barriers full tuition and fees for their time at the two- or four-year institution they attend. In 2010, the Foundation Trustees awarded more than $169,000 in such scholarships, marking the successful completion of the first funding cycle of the new scholarship program.

To date, 37 scholarships for full tuition and fees have been awarded to USG institutions to fund a total of more than $453,000 in need-based scholarships. These figures do not include the $174,000, which the Foundation awarded in 2010 for merit-based President's Choice Scholarships.

The amount of scholarship dollars stated above is impressive. Equally impressive is the very generous financial support from Georgia's corporate and philanthropic communities that made these awards possible.

The USG Foundation annual report provides detailed information about the Foundation's scholarship programs and highlights the Regents' Awards for Excellence in Education Celebration. This annual gala is the primary fund-raiser for the Foundation, which provides an occasion to recognize and honor outstanding faculty, alumni and a lifetime servant of higher education. The evening also celebrates the talents and successes of the more than 300,000 students who attend the 35 colleges and universities in the University System.

The annual report also details the Foundation's many notable accomplishments in fiscal year 2010. During this time, we substantially increased the corpus, created additional Real Estate LLCs to support campus capital projects and continued our trusted stewardship of grants and awards given to the Foundation.

It is with great pleasure that I present to you the 2010 Annual Report of the University System of Georgia Foundation, and to acknowledge those who gave so generously to the USG Foundation this year. I sincerely thank you for your interest in and support of higher education in Georgia.

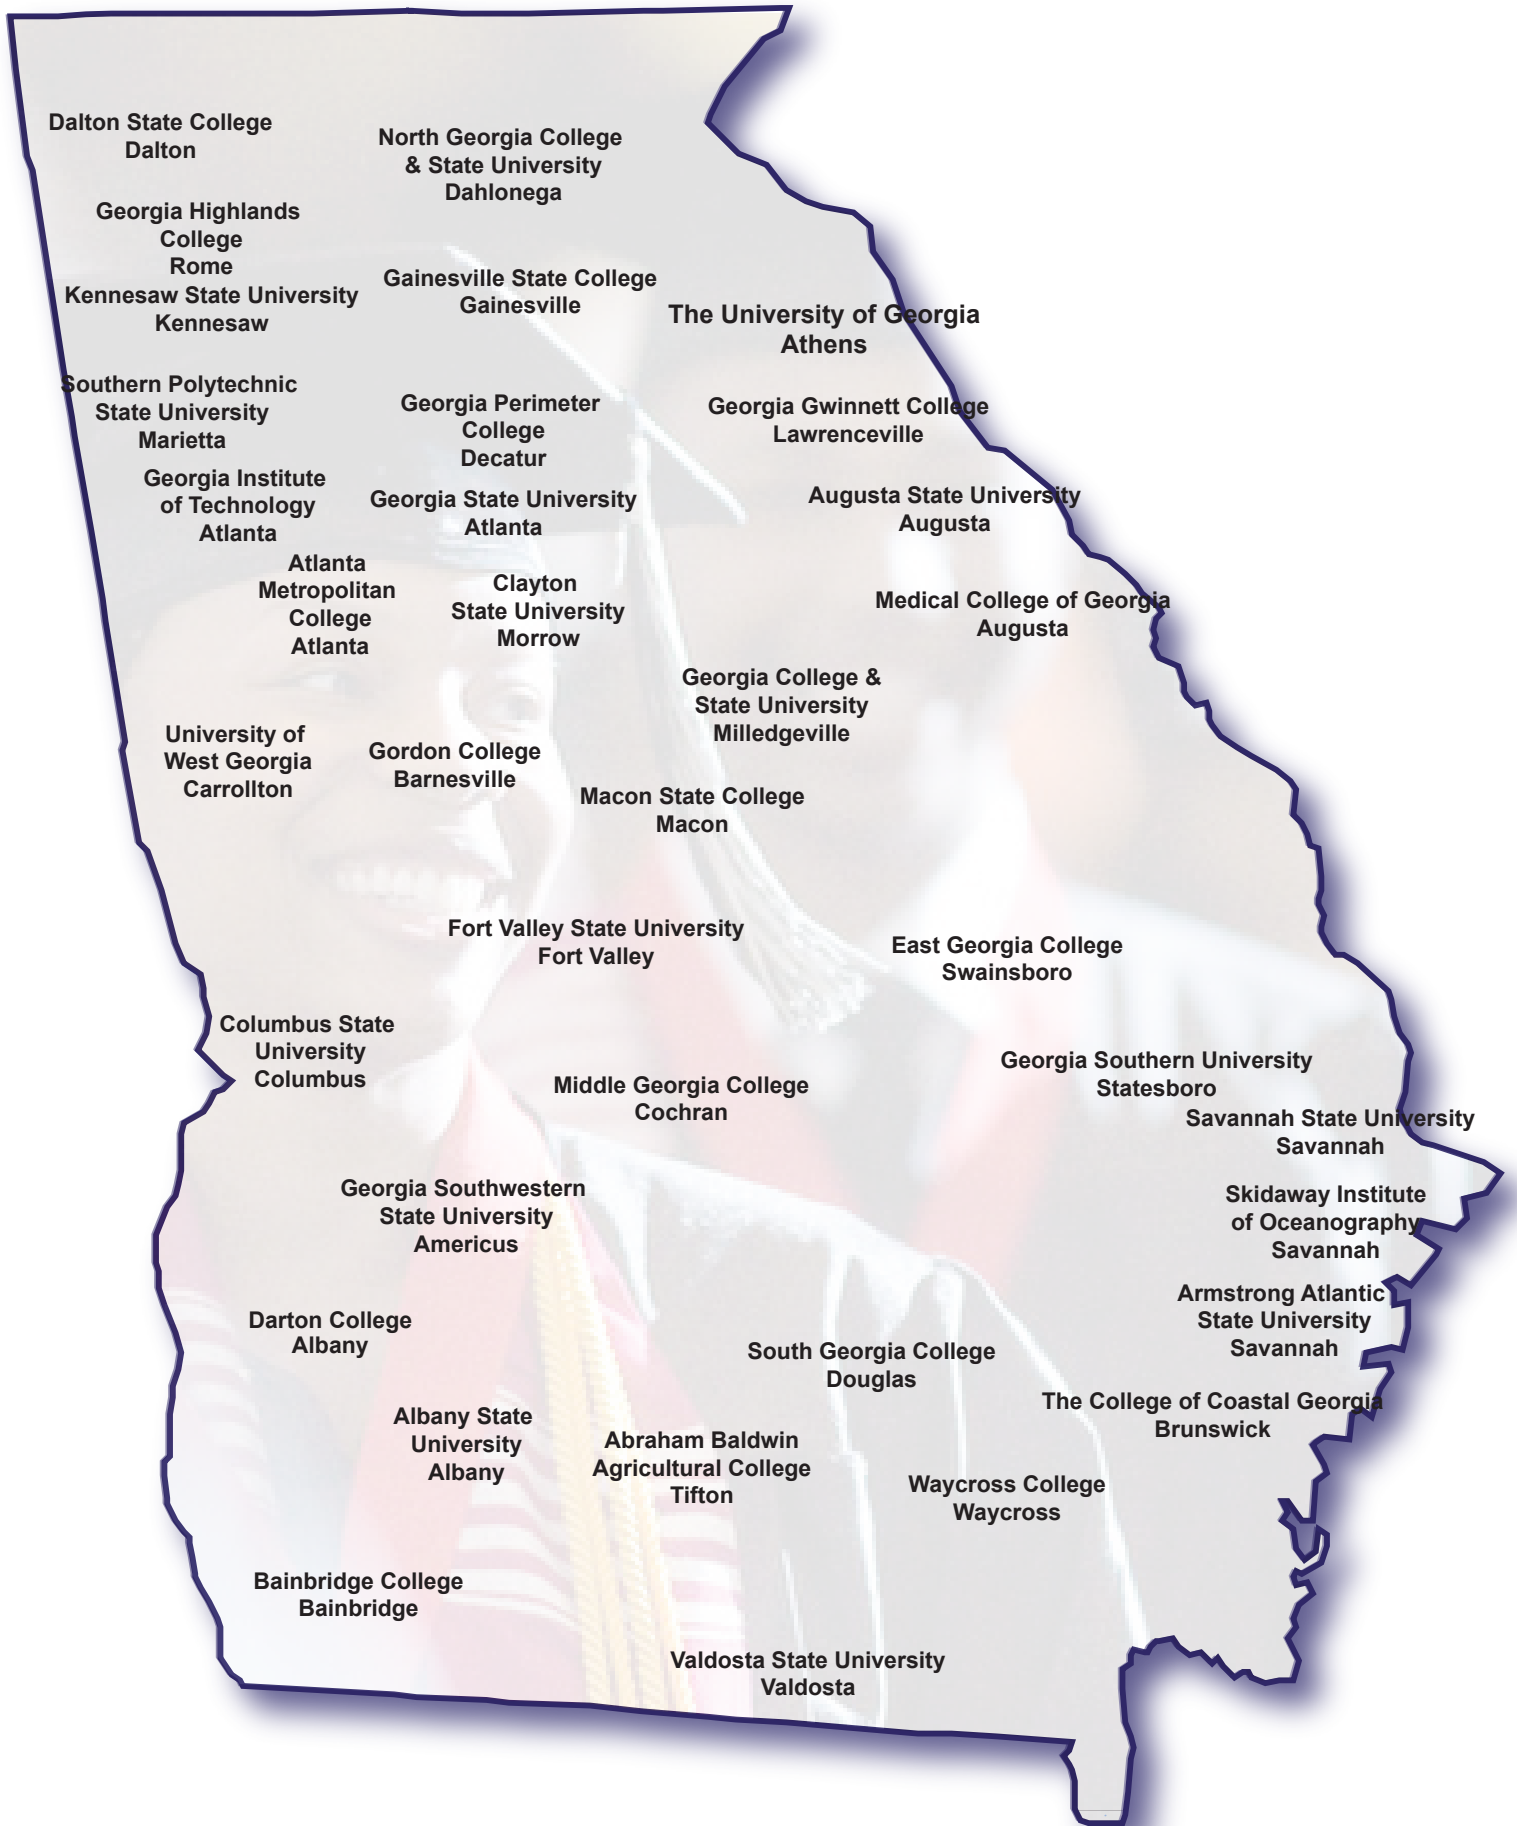

Sincerely,

REGENTS' PRESIDENT'S CHOICE SCHOLARSHIPS

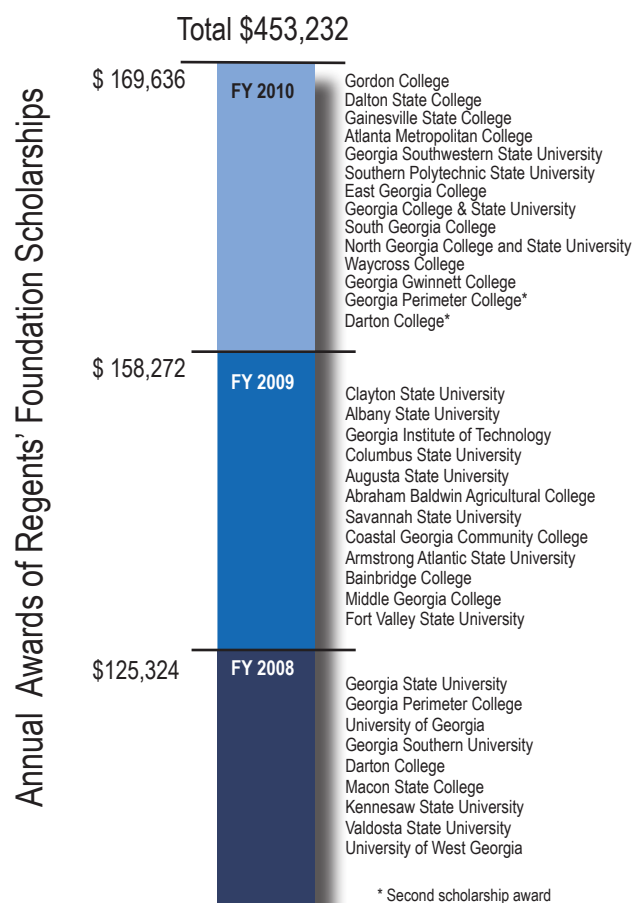

The Foundation continued to fund the Regents' President's Choice Scholarships -- a merit-based award provided to University System institutions that participate in the Regents' Awards for Excellence in Education. Institutions may receive up to $10,000 in awards. Since the inception of the award, $950,000 has been awarded to support outstanding students attending all USG institutions.

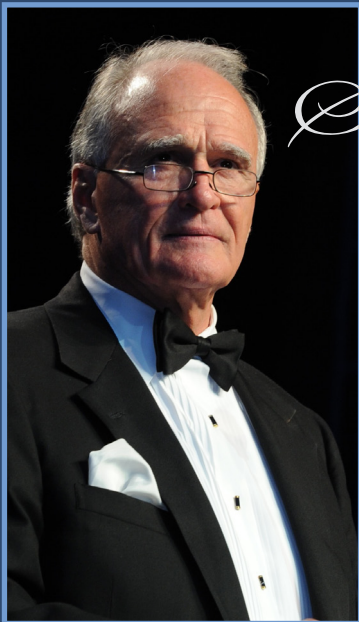

REGENTS' FOUNDATION SCHOLARSHIPS

The Foundation Trustees established the Regents' Foundation Scholarship program in 2008 to assist students who may face financial barriers and have been traditionally underserved by the University System. The scholarship recipients receive full tuition and fees for their time at the two- or four-year institution they attend.

The number of awards provided is determined annually by the Board of Trustees. Funding priority is based on the number of Pell-eligible students attending each institution. As of this fiscal year, all institutions have received funding; two institutions have received a second round. Awards to-date total $453,232 as illustrated below.

The true beneficiaries of the Regents' Awards for Excellence in Education are the students. Since the scholarship programs were established, a total of more than $1.4 million has been awarded to USG institutions to provide financial aid to deserving students.

Sixth Annual Celebration

The University System of Georgia Foundation, Inc. established the Regents' Awards for Excellence in Education to recognize the contributions and achievements of its students, faculty, alumni and supporters. Each year at this prestigious event, the University System of Georgia Foundation Board presents the Regents' Hall of Fame Awards and the McMillan Lifetime Achievement Award to honor faculty and alumni of the University System of Georgia. The event also raises funds to support the work of the University System and the Regents' President's Choice and Regents' Foundation Scholarships, which provide merit- and need-based scholarships for students attending USG colleges and universities.

On March 20, 2010, nearly 1,000 guests, representing the 35 USG institutions, a USG research center, and Georgia's corporate and philanthropic communities came together to celebrate the fifth annual Regents' Awards for Excellence in Education. Held at the Marriott Marquis Atlanta, guests enjoyed a full evening of activities, including a silent auction, a three-course dinner and an awards ceremony. Entertainment was provided by students from Georgia College and State University and North Georgia College and State University. Student ambassadors from the University of Georgia and the University of West Georgia assisted guests with registration, the silent auction and seating.

The awards program began with a video featuring student scholarship recipients

Anna Beck and Curtis Foye, who welcomed the distinguished audience and thanked them for their support. Foundation Chairman Donald M. Leebern, USG Chancellor Erroll B. Davis, Jr. and Lieutenant Governor Casey Cagle delivered welcoming remarks. Shane Coldren from SunTrust Banks introduced the student entertainment. Foundation Vice-Chair Felton Jenkins introduced the evening's awards. Regent Willis Potts presented the Customer Service Award of Excellence to Fran Mohr. Mara Holley from Wachovia Bank presented the Regents' Hall of Fame Faculty Awards. Frank Ros from the Coca-Cola Company presented the Regents' Hall of Fame Alumni Awards. The prestigious Elridge McMillan Lifetime Achievement award was presented by Chairman Leebern and Regent Emeritus McMillan to Mr. Truett Cathy.

ELDRIDGE McMILLAN LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

S. Truett Cathy, Chick-fil-A

Truett Cathy took a tiny Atlanta diner, originally called the Dwarf Grill, and transformed it into Chick-fil-A, the nation's second largest quick-service chicken restaurant chain with more than $3.21 billion in sales in 2009 and currently more than 1,480 locations.

Mr. Truett Cathy and Regent Emeritus Eldridge McMillan

Cathy's tremendous business success allowed him to pursue other passions – most notably his interest in the development of young people. His WinShape Foundation, founded in 1984, grew from his desire to “shape winners” by helping young people succeed in life through scholarships and other youth-support programs. The Foundation annually awards 20 to 30 students wishing to attend Berry College with scholarships up to $32,000 that are jointly funded by WinShape and Berry. In addition, through its Leadership Scholarship Program, the Chick-fil-A chain has given more than $25 million in $1,000 scholarships to Chick-fil-A restaurant employees since 1973. This year the company will award more than $1.9 million in scholarships to its restaurant team members.

Mr. Cathy has received countless awards over the years for his contributions to the community and the State of Georgia. The University System of Georgia Foundation is pleased to join the list of organizations that have honored Mr. Cathy by presenting him with the McMillan Lifetime Achievement Award.

MEET TWO OF THE 57 REGENTS' SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENTS IN 2010

Regents' President's Choice Scholarship Recipient Anna Beck

When Anna Beck was choosing an institution for beginning her four-year transformation, North Georgia College & State University (North Georgia) stood out because of its close-knit environment and the personalized instruction she would receive. Now a senior at North Georgia, Anna is a Middle Grades Education major and she aspires to teach middle school math and science in inner city Atlanta, with an ultimate goal to work as an administrator. She is very thankful for the President's Choice Scholarship saying, "I come from a family with 12 children. This scholarship has allowed me to focus on my classes and extracurricular activities without having to worry about finances."

Regents' Foundation Scholar- ship Recipient Curtis Foye

Curtis Foye is a freshman at Georgia Perimeter College, Clarkston Campus. He chose Georgia Perimeter because of the small class sizes and overall faculty-student ratio. After completing his first two years at Georgia Perimeter, Curtis hopes to attend Georgia State University to pursue a degree in business administration. He then plans to use his degree to become a marketing executive for a retail chain. Curtis says when he learned he was receiving the Foundation Scholarship, "it was a burden off my back knowing that my books, tuition and fees were all taken care of." He is grateful for the scholarship and thanks the USG Foundation Board of Trustees for funding it.

REGENTS' HALL OF FAME FACULTY AWARDS

REGENTS' TEACHING EXCELLENCE AWARDS

Matthew Baker, Associate Professor of Mathematics Georgia Institute of Technology

Dr. Baker teaches both undergraduate and graduate students at Georgia Tech. According to University officials, he inspires his students and amazes his colleagues with his use of magic to illustrate mathematical concepts. He also promotes the value of math to area high school students and community groups. In addition to training graduate students, Dr. Baker regularly involves his undergraduate students in research and helps them present their work at conferences and publish articles in professional journals. He serves as the faculty advisor for the competitive Putnam Math Team and as the coordinator for the School of Mathematics Research Experiences program. Dr. Baker's commitment to his students has not kept him from doing extensive research of his own.

Candace Timpfe, Associate Professor of Biology Georgia Gwinnett College

Dr. Timpfe's colleagues attest that her dedication to students guides everything she does, from working with beginning students in her First Year Seminar to seniors in a Biology Capstone Course. She uses case studies and other teaching techniques that actively engage students in the learning process. As a contributor to the Partners in Active Learning (PALs) project, she connects biology to other academic disciplines and helping students understand the interdisciplinary nature of the world. One of Dr. Timpfe's students notes that "she is a wonderfully optimistic, energetic professor, always prepared and always there to help outside of class."

REGENTS' SCHOLARSHIP OF TEACHING AND LEARNING AWARD

Karen Robinson, Associate Professor of Theatre and Performance Studies, Kennesaw State University

Professor Robinson's colleagues praise her for educating students through the scholar-artist model, also noting that the theatrical productions she directs take student learning well beyond the classroom. She also has a strong record of promoting global learning and diversity. For example, in 2007 she secured funding for a residency at Kennesaw State for a 26-member Kenyan Youth Choir and directed a production of "Monkey King" both at the University and in Shanghai, China. Professor Robinson also shares her teaching techniques through conference presentations and publications, hoping to increase global learning at other colleges and universities.

Laura Regassa, Associate Professor of Biology Georgia Southern University

According to Georgia Southern officials, Dr. Regassa has an impressive record of scholarship that clearly demonstrates the impact her innovative teaching techniques have on student learning. Her focus on project-based learning has received significant grant support from the National Science Foundation and she is known nationally and internationally for her meticulous scholarly approach to improving teaching and student learning. Colleagues say Dr. Regassa's teaching and research projects serve as powerful examples of advancing the scholarship of teaching and learning.

The USG Foundation provides administrative support for programmatic grants which provide funding for initiatives that further the mission of the University System and are deposited in the Foundation. Each grant involves multiple University System institutions, and, in most instances, education agency partners.

Georgia Early College Initiative

Funders: Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation
Robert W. Woodruff Foundation

The University System of Georgia serves as the Intermediary for the Georgia Early College Initiative—a partnership of the Georgia Department of Education and the University System of Georgia. Each Early College is a partnership between one or more Georgia public school systems and a University System of Georgia college or university. The Early College model blends high school and the first two years of college for the purpose of finding more successful ways to educate young people so that they will be prepared to contribute to our knowledge-based economy and to improve their overall quality of life. The goals of the Georgia Early College Initiative are:

- 1) To increase college readiness and college success of high school graduates traditionally underserved in the University System of Georgia;
- 2) To develop and test model programs for young people, aged 14 to 20, or in some cases even younger, that get better results, are more coherent, less duplicative, and make possible a shorter time to completion of an associate degree or one to two years of transferable college credit;
- 3) To study the effectiveness of the Early College model for reducing the high school dropout rate, and for increasing the college admission and college success rates of African American males, Hispanic students, and other traditionally underserved students; and
- 4) To study Early Colleges as demonstration projects so that lessons learned may be applied to the replication of Early Colleges throughout Georgia as part of the work of the Alliance of Education Agency Heads (AEAH).

The NSC Student Data For High Schools Pilot

Funder: Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation

This pilot is a cooperative project of the Alliance of Education Agency Heads whose membership consists of The Georgia Department of Education, the Georgia Student Finance Commission, The University System of Georgia, the Georgia Professional Standards Commission, the Governor's Office of Student Achievement, the Technical College System of Georgia, and the Department of Early Care and Learning.

The purpose of this project is to support Georgia in providing the data for statewide matching and reporting of postsecondary outcomes, to facilitate state, district and school level engagement in reviewing and providing feedback on reports and participating in related professional development. The project also seeks to increase the number of districts and schools that have access to improved National Student Clearinghouse data and reports, including documentation of student persistence in higher education.

Center for Health Workforce Planning and Analysis Funder: Healthcare Georgia Foundation

The Center for Health Workforce Planning and Analysis is the University System's response to the many shortages and crises facing the health workforce in Georgia. To assist the state in overcoming current concerns, and prevent future ones from emerging, the Center develops data grounded methods that enable state leadership to identify concerns in the state's health workforce. As these are identified, the Center works with leaders within the university system and across the state to develop effective solutions and leverage needed resources and critical change to ensure the citizens of this state have access to the health care they need from well educated, highly skilled health care professionals.

With multiple concerns across many health professions, the Center is currently focusing on critical areas in nursing and behavioral health. Given numerous capacity constraints impeding the ability of USG's nursing programs (and other non-USG programs as well) to expand to meet pending RN shortages in Georgia, the Center is focusing on understanding factors driving nursing faculty shortages and implementing potential solutions to these shortages. Working with the state's many behavioral health related agencies, the Center is formulating a data driven analysis of the workforce needs for the state's behavioral health system and devising potential approaches to expand critical components of the behavioral health workforce and educate new professionals in ways that help ensure that these workers become part of the solution to the state's behavioral health workforce concerns.
